A SINGULAR CONFESSION.

A Catholic Priest Shot Dead in the Confessional by a Man Who Came to Confess His Sin.

From the Bellefontaine (Ohio) Republican.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock, on Monday evening last, a man came to the jail and delivered himself to the jailer, saying that he had killed the priest and wanted to confess his sin.

The horrible affair, the killing of a man in his own house, in this cold-blooded manner, was the first ever committed in our town, and naturally raised a great deal of excitement.

Only the facts that a horrible murder had been committed, and that the murderer had given himself up, were clear. Powers said that he went to the priest with a heavy load on his mind to make a confession, and the remarks of the priest highly incensed him.

On the morning in company with Mr. Hubbard, of the Gazette, and the jailer, Mr. Deady, we went to see the jailer, Mr. Powers, who is the subject of the murder by remarking that "the killing of the priest last night was a bad affair, wasn't it?"

TERRIBLE TIMES.

"NOT FOR JOE"

A Model "In Memoriam" from the Sublime to the ridiculous.

We find in a number of papers the following refreshing "in memoriam," which is too good to be restricted to a limited circle of readers:

ASSASSINATION.

A Respectable Citizen of Omaha Shot and Mortally Wounded—The Assassin Still at Large.

From the Omaha Republican.

Only another man shot—received his death wound while quietly going home at a late hour on last Saturday night, the same being very happy to any citizen on any night in this good city of Omaha.

ASSASSINATION.

A Man Who is Always Fleeter from Invisible Pursuers—He Attempts Suicide to Escape Them.

From the Louisville Journal.

There was a singular case of lunacy developed in the City Court on Thursday. A man named John Young was tried and adjudged a lunatic, and ordered to be sent to the asylum at Lexington.

SINGULAR FRENZY.

There was a singular case of lunacy developed in the City Court on Thursday. A man named John Young was tried and adjudged a lunatic, and ordered to be sent to the asylum at Lexington.

wanted to arrest him; that he was asleep at the time, and jumped out of bed, put on his clothes and ran away, but that he took after him.

He said he was in a fence-corner, with the other two went around to head him. He says that he ran and jumped into a deep ditch of mud, so that they would not get to him, but that they were crying and punching him out with long poles, when he came to the conclusion that rather than be taken and put in jail, for he never committed any crime, he would cut his own throat.
